

Think First To Stay Safe!

Parents, playing a “What if” game is a fun way to talk about family safety rules. It can also help children feel they have some control in a situation that is scary or that makes them feel uneasy. Let them know your rules and tell them they can make good decisions. Ask your child, “what would you do if...”

You were home alone and the doorbell rang?

You were walking by yourself and someone was following you?

You were waiting for us to pick you up—we hadn't arrived and it's getting late?

You were home alone and the phone rang—someone asked if your Mom/Dad/Guardian was home?

Someone that our family knows really well wanted to break a family rule?

You woke up because you smelled smoke?

You were playing in the front yard and a man walked over and asked you if he could use your phone to call a tow truck?

We were in a crowded store and we became separated?
